

People HR is a human resources management system for progressive HR professionals who want to make better decisions, engage their employees, and deliver high-impact results for their organisation.

That's a big claim. So how does it work?

Adopt a system that works how you work

No two organisations operate in the same way, which is why People HR adapts to how you work. Whether it's the type of information you record, the reports you prepare, the way you approve leave requests, or what your new starter process looks like. We fit you, not the other way around.

Automate the tasks you hate

You want to focus your intelligence and passion on the HR activities that really matter, like hiring and retaining talented people, and nurturing a more productive workforce. People HR helps you to automate the repetitive manual tasks you hate, so you can take care of more important work.

Access accurate information, anywhere

You make smarter decisions and fewer mistakes when your information isn't scattered on different spreadsheets, computers, paper files and email inboxes. People HR stores all your data in a single place, meaning you and your team can access it instantly, from anywhere.

Rely on friendly experts

It's not all about the software. When you work with People HR, you work with a team of friendly experts who understand your challenges and speak your language. From training and implementation, to ongoing help and support, we're with you every step of the way.

Give your employees a system they'll love

People HR is a system your workforce will actually use, because it is quick to learn and easy to access from any device. Employees love feeling in the loop, while enjoying a painless way to manage HR tasks like holiday requests, expense claims or performance reviews.

Show high-impact results

HR data can be powerful when presented in the right way. People HR makes your essential information clear and easy to navigate, and gives you the tools to create high-impact reports, which show compelling insights that drive action.
